

PRESS RELEASE

Referring to the incident, yesterday, July 27th, 2010 (during the fiestas.)

Yesterday at 19:00h, as with every day, there was bull running in the street, prior to the entrance of the bulls in the arena.

As usual, before starting, all escape routes were checked by the Local Police, the Bull Association and the Festeros.

The wooden gate located in the church plaza was closed; this is checked each time, but at one point, a particular person, who has been identified, opened the door providing the escape route for a cow.

We cannot provide the identity of this person as the matter is now in the hands of the Guardia Civil.

Whilst escaping into open fields, two girls about 14 years old were frightened and suffered slight injuries while avoiding the animal. One suffered a sprain and the other a few scrapes when they fell from a small wall.

Thankfully, no else was injured.

The cow ran across the countryside, at all times followed by the Local Police, Bull Association and the Protection Civil.

Finally they managed to encircle it in a street in La LLuca, and after a long wait the animal entered the transport truck of the owner of the cow. It entered on its own.
